7. Breaking behavior tests

Title with long first item

This is a very long first item that should stay with the title but might need to break internally if it gets too long. Let's add even more text to make sure it's long enough to test breaking behavior.

Second item

Third item
Title with long later items

Short first item

This is a very long second item that should be able to break freely since it's not part of the unbreakable section with the title. Let's make it even longer to ensure we test the breaking behavior properly.

Another long item that should also be able to break freely.
We want to make sure that items after the first one can break across pages when needed.
